UNFINISHED BUSINESS

a. 75th Anniversary Celebration and Articles

Co-Chair Maniatis stated that he had 21 photos that he would like the Committee to vote on for the historic newspaper article and art display in City Hall. He noted the photographs are copyright protected so the Committee would have to pay around $500 per photograph to display them in a public space. He said he has been negotiating with Getty, who has exclusive management rights to the photos, to reduce that cost.

Director Sager displayed the 21 photos in a PowerPoint presentation.

The Committee liked the 1960 Arnold Palmer photograph and agreed that it was worth the money to purchase the rights to that photo. They did not feel it was worth the money to purchase the rights to all of the photos.

Co-Chair Maniatis mentioned that the City has images of current and past Mayors of Cherry Hills Village that are currently being scanned for use.

Director Sager confirmed that the City has rights to the photos that will be used from City Hall.

Committee Member Wyman shared four photographs that she had printed to be displayed in City Hall.

The Committee also viewed two examples of captions with a logo and description of the photo to be placed on each photo in an 18-point font. The Committee agreed on option one with the caption going below the photo.

The Committee also approved an example of a 2'x3' poster designed to introduce the photo exhibit. The poster will sit on an easel to direct people entering City Hall to the exhibit.

Co-Chair Maniatis introduced a timeline for the article and photo display. He described a horizontal format where the timeline would delineate the milestones going back to the 1860's. He and Committee Member Wyman considered the most important parts of the Village when putting the timeline together.

The Committee discussed the proposed timeline and added several historical dates and events that shaped Cherry Hills Village.

The Committee talked about including the history of census results in the Village from the time the City was incorporated.

The Committee also discussed using the plus sign in the 75th plus one Anniversary description so it reads 75th (+ one) in parentheses.

Co-Chair Barry asked how the Committee plans to display the timeline, so it will be pleasing to the eye since there is more information than photographs.

Co-Chair Maniatis responded that the timeline will run as a banner in the Villager Newspaper article along with pictures. He suggested visiting the History Colorado Center for ideas on interpretive displays and timelines.

The Committee discussed how the timeline will be displayed in City Hall. They agreed that once the timeline is finalized, the Committee will look at the scale of the display to see where it will fit best on the wall.

Co-Chair Maniatis noted that Susan from the Villager Newspaper mentioned that she would like to allocate a special section for the former mayors of Cherry Hills Village. He suggested using one full page for these writeups.

Co-Chair Maniatis asked the Committee for feedback on how they want the photographs mounted. He shared an example of a photograph with aluminum backing, but said there are less expensive options to consider.

The Committee discussed making all the photos consistent. They agreed there is value in having the photos on aluminum backing so they can be preserved long term.

Committee Member Christman suggested aluminum could be used for the more expensive photographs that the City wants to preserve, and a less expensive backing could be used for the others to save cost. She asked what the storage requirements are to preserve the photos and if there is enough room to store them at the Public Works Facility.

Co-Chair Maniatis responded that the photographs should be wrapped so the edges do not get chipped.

Coordinator Black commented there is storage room at the Public Works Facility but she said it is very dusty so the photographs would need to be in an enclosed container.

Co-Chair Maniatis advised there will be a haunted ghost article in the November Village Crier. He described it as a short history on two of the haunted houses in Cherry Hills Village. He said he also wrote a Halloween poem based on historic facts that will be in the November Village Crier.

The Committee discussed choosing photos that would coordinate with the timeline.

Committee Member Tisdale noted that some of the photos are aesthetically pleasing such as the woman on the horse in front of the Village Club. He suggested using a variety of photos including some that tie directly into the timeline. He said he does not think the Committee should get hung up on being too precise.

Committee Member Christman suggested having printouts available at City Hall with references to the photographs for people who are interested in the history.

Co-Chair Barry offered to create a diagram of the timeline and photos. He said he would like to create something easy to read where people can engage in the exhibit.

The Committee agreed that Co-Chair Maniatis should make the corrections and adjustments to the timeline based on today's discussions. The timeline will then be emailed to Committee Members so they can respond back with any changes.

The Committee should work with Director Sager so all email correspondence is sent through staff.

The Committee thanked Co-Chair Maniatis and Committee Member Wyman for their work on the articles and photographs.

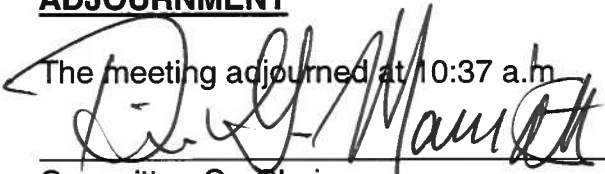

Director Sager announced that effective October 20th the City will be working with 50% capacity due to the increase in COVID cases. She stated there will be no meetings outside of official committee meetings allowed in City Hall.
